

HOME PLANS ▾ START ▾ FUNDING ▾ GROW ▾ SUCCESS ▾ FRANCHISING ▾ COMPANY NEW

WOMEN ENTREPRENEUR SUCCESSES

Watch List: 50 Top SA Business Women To Watch

Don't miss out on these 50 female trailblazers making an impact in the South African arena

Published 2 months ago on Jun 30, 2018

By Nicole Crampton

14

13. Nadia Rawjee and Zahra Rawjee

Vital Stats:

- Business: Uzenzele Holdings
- Business Est: 2012

Up-and-coming:

“We realised what an impact government and developmental funding could have had on family business, but like so many SMEs, it never accessed the funds available,” says Zahra Rawjee. So they launched their business to help SME’s navigate the application process for government and developmental funding.

Watch this space

Nadia Rawjee and Zahra Rawjee know the details of each of the various government and developmental funds, as well as their prospects and how much capital they’ll really need for their expansion plans. This experience allows the Rawjee sisters to advise businesses on what fund to apply for, how to apply and how much money they should be asking for.

Read more: Uzenzele Holdings Co-founders Nadia And Zahra Rawjee’s Top Advice On Building A Service-based Business

14

RELATED TOPICS: #FEATURED

DON'T MISS
◀ How Teenpreneur Rabia Ghoor Founded A Successful Business At The Age Of 14

UP NEXT
Financial Wellness Coach Nelisiwe Masango Shares Retirement Wealth Advice

Nicole Crampton

Nicole Crampton is an online writer for Entrepreneur Magazine. She has studied a BA Journalism at Moraitse University in South Africa. Nicole has also completed several courses in writing and online marketing.